What is Trackman? Trackman is a radar based tracking system which will track your ball and record many different data points from spin rate, angle of attach, launch angle, total carry, club head speed, face angle, path angle and many more. This cannot be done by eye, with video or by feel - it can only be accomplished with Trackman. This technology provides a unique experience for the golfer and delivers quantifiable club and golf ball data that will expedite the learning process and have students reaching their golf goals in a timely and efficient manner.
